

The Reader

(advertisement)

Local Bookstores

The Chelsea/Wakefield area is blessed with two great bookstores – testament to the large population of book lovers. Solstice Books in Wakefield has a wonderful collection of current and backlist titles and the helpful staff are ready to take your orders for books not in stock.

Livres Chelsea Books has thousands of used books. While the store may not always have the most popular titles (these take a while to go the rounds of friends and family before they arrive in the used bookstore) it does regularly carry the most current books and an excellent selection of classics and literary prize-winners, children's books and Canadiana, and much more, all in very good condition.

Life-cycle of the book

So, you've bought your book at Solstice and it has been read by all of your buddies but is still the talk of the book clubs. Why not take it to Chelsea Books so that someone else in the region can enjoy it? Or, you've bought a pile of used books at Chelsea Books and have finished reading them all. Consider donating them to Biblio Wakefield or Chelsea Library where they can be added to the collection or sold in the book room to raise funds for the library. Talk about a win-win scenario.

Livres Chelsea Books
101 Old Chelsea Road
819-827-7752

www.chelseabooks.ca

Open Thursday-Saturday
11 am - 6 pm